The Bison baseball team has more than five months to wait until they begin their regular season, but the team has already begun preparing for the 2014 season.

The team began practicing Sept. 17 and is looking forward to practicing 24 times, according to NC.

Tonight: Harding will scrim- mame against North Arkansas College at 10 a.m. and again Saturday, Oct. 5, at noon, against Arkansas Tech.

Head Coach Patrick McGaha said numerous scrimmages against North Arkansas College will be a much more, but it will help prepare the Bison for the season.

"Traditionally NCA is the backup very well," McGaha said. "It will be a good challenge for our pitching."
Bison pride, win or lose

You've heard it a thousand times. Have school spirit at the game, or you won't win. Wear the colors, cheer your team... And usually all of that just goes in one ear and out the other. Wear the colors, cheer your team... But that may be true. But at colleges today, we win money and iPads and phones. As fans, fans. At football games we tailgate (people bring their own good food and dress up). It's about time we figured out how much for the football season could be. In this game, some people even said that in fact it feels like we are at "real school" playing "real football" against the best teams.

But for now, we actually care and made an effort.

I had ever seen Harding kids so excited about a game. It was a "real" football game was just something that was actually cared and made an effort to get to. So for it, I think it has gotten through the heads of much of the student population that we should indeed wear school colors.

At long last, we actually care about our Bison ball team.

Now that we have finally reached this monumental moment, it's time to go to the game. Not just for football, but for school spirit. And usually that means at least some sort of school pride.

This weekend the Bison will play a game that is probably their most difficult game of the season against No. 12 ranked Henderson State.

If we win this game, it will be a huge accomplishment and move us up from our already No. 33 ranking.

The problem? If the Bison lose, then, I think they will also lose their fans.

Supporting an unlamented team is probably more fun.

But playing a sport when you have people reeling and cheering throughout the whole game is such a sight.

Let's remember this weekend, not in win or lose, we need to support our athletes.

Basketball season is just around the corner. On Monday with Mississippi College.

But for now, our focus is on the big game.

Bisons are Unstoppable.
A part of respect.
her character.
says so much about him or herself out there have a lot of respect for.
and made her feel welcome
players embraced this girl become the laughingstock
He just wanted to help.
and didn't tell a soul shared on Yahoo news. In fact, he didn't tell a soul access to in order to work leukemia.
Chuck Pagano, who has Twitter: @alexis_hosticka
ahostick@harding.edu.
ALEXIS HOSTICKA is spotlight for good
SL_PZ/VZ[PJRH
November 30, 2012
Basketball with solid start season 9-2
Bisons lose first playoff game, look to next year
by ALEXIS HOSTICKA
photo by AMY MARK
Multimedia editor
by AMY MARÉ
Multimedia editor

\textbf{Basketball with solid start season 9-2}
\textbf{Bisons lose first playoff game, look to next year}
by ALEXIS HOSTICKA

While most students were relaxing at home with their families during Thanksgiving break, the Lady Bisons won the championship and ended the season with a 13-0 record in conference.

According to Huckeba, the
 ...)